

SOME HOPE FOR MORE LOCALITIES ORDINANCE YET ARE NOW INFECTED

CHOLERA HAS APPEARED IN TWO PLACES IN PALAMA—NINE CASES UP TO DATE.

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)

Two more cases of cholera, one of which is certain and the other probable, were discovered yesterday, bringing the roll of cases thus far up to a total of nine, out of which there have been seven deaths.

The disease yesterday appeared in two localities different from those where it was first observed. The first case was that of a Hawaiian, about twenty-four years old, on Dowsett lane, who was reported last night to be in the second stage of the disease. The second case yesterday, and the ninth case in all, was that of a Hawaiian woman, on Alapai lane, who died shortly after discovery.

The diagnosis in the last case is provisional, but the symptoms and the post-mortem examination have resulted in a verdict of it being that disease. It will be verified this morning.

Each case discovered is adding to the number of contacts who are being sent into quarantine on the "island." The board of health is keeping an inspector on duty at the board's headquarters continually. A direct line telephone has been installed, doing away with the inconvenience of a distant exchange in the Capitol. The number is 3002. The board will receive or dispense any information over this line at any time, day or night.

Quick Action.

The board of health, assisted to the fullest extent by Sheriff Jarrett of the police, took every precaution it could think of in each case, and is fighting the spread of the disease bitterly and continually, and it is due to its combined efforts that the number of cases has been kept down to bounds where they can be handled.

Upon the discovery of the eighth case, it was stated that the victim had been to a luncheon immediately previous to his seizure. The names of all those at the luncheon were learned at once, and they were rounded up by a squad of automobiles. It was then discovered that the luncheon was held ten days ago, too long to permit it to figure in the case.

Guards were stationed around the tenement on Dowsett lane, with orders to prevent any one leaving it, and the names of those who lived there and who happened to be away were learned. They were telephoned for at their places of employment at once. Some were already on their way home, but others were ordered to come to the board of health immediately.

Bustleabout.

The board of health headquarters presented a military appearance yesterday. President Mott-Smith himself is now in the drab uniform of his department and is personally directing the efforts of his men from his table, going with them to the infected districts, daily inspecting conditions in quarantine and performing all the innumerable details of guarding a city threatened by the outbreak of a virulent disease, but with a good chance of escaping from it.

The only cure yet made is that of the little eight-year-old girl at Kakaako, whom Dr. Wayson has been on watch over. Her recovery is now stated to be almost certain. It is doubtful if the Dowsett lane case will result in recovery.

Military Restrictions.

Military authorities are preparing to place restrictions on the enlisted men and are taking steps to post them in the necessary steps to guard against the disease. Liberty is granted rarely, especially at Port Shafter. There is as yet no restriction on the marine battalion and leave is being granted as usual there.

The men on the H. M. S. Kent are being granted shore liberty only in small groups and there is a scarcity of uniforms of any description on the streets.

One lady chose to go in bathing at Waikiki yesterday "just to see if the board of health meant what it said." She has been sent a note saying that she will hereafter be under surveillance.

Dr. Clegg Assigned.

Moses T. Clegg, the famous bacteriologist now working on leprosy experiments at the Kala station under direction of the federal government and who is an expert on less potent cholera bacteriological work, has been assigned to aid Dr. Sinclair in tracing out the infection.

He went to the Dowsett lane tenement yesterday where the eighth case was found and secured every article of food and water that was about and these are being thoroughly examined in an effort to ascertain the source.

As yet no progress has been made in locating the center of infection, which, if discovered now, might put a stop to the epidemic.

Launch Patrol.

Through the generosity of Eben Low, his fast gasoline launch has been placed at the disposal of the board of health and a fast coast patrol is now being continuously kept up. There is absolutely no chance under this arrangement of any fishing being done in the restricted limits and the enforcement of the new regulation is certain.

SQUAW'S STORY FIXES THE BLAME

WINNEMUCCA, Nevada, February 28.—A squaw belonging to the tribe of Indians responsible for the murder of four prominent sheepmen of Alturas, of which twelve members were captured after a battle near here yesterday, has confessed that the Indians committed the murders.

TO JAMES SUTTON McCANDLESS.

This beautiful balmy morning before the tropical sun reaches the meridian, the Imperial Potentate and his cohorts will have said their aloha to, an revoir and auf wiedersehen, to you and your nobility, and before the Southern Cross next rises in your moonlit skies we will be many leagues away, bound for our homes in the distant countries of the mainland. We have come to your emerald islands, the pearls of the southern seas; we have looked upon your eternal fires of Kilua; we have inspected your great plantations of sugar, pineapples and pinesapples; your rice paddies, your Punchbowl, Pearl Harbor and Diamond Head, but greater and more impressive than all of these has been the hospitality and welcome accorded us, and the sincerity and unity of treatment and action, upon the part of you and your nobility.

With your nobles and your ladies we have stood in the presence of your royalty, visited your wonder places and partaken of your feasts, but greater far than all of these material things has been the evidence of your warm true friendship for each of us. So now we pay you this tribute of esteem and admiration, because we recognize in your quiet charming disposition the gentleman of the old school, the gallant noble with a heart of pure gold, born to the purple with those sterling qualities and kindly graces which comprised the attributes of knight-hood in chivalric days, when men fought for their principles, their kings, and their honor.

Our welcome was warm and sincere; our entertainment has been lavish without recklessness; each moment has been filled with its meed of interest and its treasure. Many beautiful thoughts have come from the nowhere to the here in our mentality, inspired or conjured up by some farsighted intention or action of yours, and we leave you now, fully realizing and well knowing that our lives have been benefited and our hearts made to glow with warmth from feelings engendered by your graciousness, your princely meien and personal magnetism.

From out each heart amongst us a supplication goes up to Allah, that when the last Mezzanin's call shall sound, the credits in your favor on the great ledger book of Heaven shall be found so large and numerous that You and your House, yes, even all your Nobility of Aloha shall be granted entrance before the final closing of the Gates Ajar.

James Sutton McCandless, we thank you! We honor you! We love you! Aloha nui oe.

BRILLIANT BANQUET CONCLUDES SERIES OF ENTERTAINMENTS FOR THE PILGRIMS

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)

The official banquet to Imperial Potentate Hines and the members of the Imperial Divan at the head of the Shriner's pilgrimage was given in the Waikiki diningroom of the Alexander Young Hotel last evening, the hosts being Potentate "Sunny Jim" McCandless and Mrs. McCandless, the guests being the leading members of the American Shriners and their wives, the leading officers of Aloha Temple and their wives and a few unbranded nomads. The affair was a brilliant one, socially and fraternally, a fitting climax for the series of entertainments tendered the visiting nobles and their ladies during the past week.

One large table was set for forty-two guests, the decorations of carnations and violets being exquisite. Festooned from the central chandelier, wreaths of maille and carnations were carried to the walls, forming a canopy of floral beauty. Great vases of carnations were placed down the center of the tables, while violets and greens were scattered profusely upon the damask. Upon the walls were draped Shriner's banners and a grizzly Billiken, with great Shrine significance, beamed upon all comers as he swung before the central mirror.

The Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. McCandless received their guests in the reception room on the office floor. Few introductions were necessary, and the joviality of the occasion was manifested from the start. At the banquet table the Imperial Potentate and Past Imperial Potentate Winson were seated on each side of the hostess, with their wives opposite with the host. At the head of the table was seated Mrs. Robert Lewers, with Mr. Lewers in the seat of honor opposite.

The other guests were: Miss Augusta Poehler, Dr. A. G. Hodgins, E. A. Fletcher, Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Imperial Treasurer William S. Brown, Walter G. Smith, Mrs. M. E. Grossman, Dr. C. B. Wood, William Crocker, Mrs. Alexander Gilliland, Wallace R. Farrington, John W. Boyle, Mrs. Arthur Wall, Oriental Guide Dr. Fred. R. Smith, R. O. Matheson, Mrs. C. B. Wood, Gen. Robert Wankowski, Miss Irene Poehler, Past Imperial Potentate George H. Green, George Filmer, Mrs. George H. Green, Mrs. John W. Boyle, Dr. C. B. Cooper, Mrs. Robert Wankowski, John A. McCandless, Chas. G. Becker, Mrs. E. B. Smith, M. E. Grossman, Mrs. Motley H. Flint, M. Phillips, Mrs. William Crocker, Arthur Wall, Mrs. Chas. G. Becker, Alexander Gilliland, Mrs. E. A. Fletcher, A. M. Allison.

Following the delicious menu, upon the preparation of which the hotel chef had exhausted the limit of his skill and possibilities, Dr. C. B. Wood rose as toastmaster, calling upon the guests to drink to the health and prosperity of their host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. McCandless.

In response Mr. McCandless expressed

The pleasure it had been to him to have been able to bring about a realization of his ambition, which for years had been to entertain the leaders of the Shrine in Hawaii. That he had accomplished this and that the guests of Aloha had to all appearances enjoyed themselves paid him for anything that he had been able to do. He expressed the belief that the visit of the nobles had shown the people of Honolulu what the Shrine actually stood for and from what men it drew its strength for good.

Imperial Potentate's Aloha.

Imperial Potentate Hines, in responding to the toast coupled with his name, made an eloquent address, in the name of the pilgrims thanking "Sunny Jim," his wife and the nobles and ladies of Aloha for the entertainment afforded during the past strenuous week.

"This pilgrimage," said the Imperial potentate, "marks an epoch in the history of the Shrine. It has cemented old friendships and made new ones, and has drawn us together as nothing else could do."

In referring to the part that Mr. McCandless had had in this, he paid an eloquent tribute to "Sunny Jim," "the man whom everyone, in his own town and abroad, loves."

The Christener.

Wallace R. Farrington, introduced as "the man who christened Sunny Jim," responded to the call of Toastmaster Wood in a happy vein. He spoke, he said, as one outside the Shrine, but as one who had lived to learn that Shriner was the best, the brightest, the broadest fellows on earth, with the prettiest wives.

A Returned Guest.

Past Potentate Lou Winson, called upon as a kamaaina, told of the memories he had carried for ten years of his first visit to the Islands and the hope he had ever nursed of returning. He found on this trip the same welcome, the same aloha, the same glad hands he had found before, although some of the faces were new. It would not be ten years again before he came once more to Honolulu.

An Emeritus Member.

"Billy" Brown, who entered a protest because the toastmaster had said about him what he could not hear, made a witty speech, much applauded, being followed by Past Potentate George Filmer, who stated that what he had done in San Francisco to promote the success of the pilgrimage had been "a labor of love for Fred and Jim."

In Charge.

Past Imperial Potentate Green, of Texas, introduced as "Tarantula Juice Green," explained the good behavior of the party in Hawaii. As United States Marshal of Texas he had been commissioned especially by the President to watch the party as it assembled and keep back "certain ones from the rim of the Alleghenies." He had performed his duty as if the nobles had exercised due restraint, the credit belonged to him.

In closing what was one of the best speeches of the evening, Mr. Green invited the Shriner to the Lone Star State, where the latch string would be found hanging out and where the hospitality, even should it be only "of lasses and pone" would be given with a free hand and a warm heart. The speaker included in his remarks one to the effect that he had become convinced that it was in Hawaii that Adam found Eve.

Just as the dinner broke up, the ladies of the party were presented each with a souvenir spoon, beautiful pieces of the jeweler's art. The handle of the solid silver souvenir carried a fess, the Masonic triangle and a laden camel, with the letters "A. A. O. N. M. E." while "Honolulu" was graven on the bowl.

PRIMARY BILL IS READY TO FIGHT TO BE AMENDED ON BORDER LINE

CLAUSE OF BERKELEY LAW MAY BE ADDED TO IT IN COMMITTEE.

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)

There was a halt in the consideration of the primary bill, known as house bill No. 21, by the judiciary committee, to which it was referred recently, and where it has reposed ever since.

The committee met yesterday afternoon and wrestled with the problem of nominations by direct vote. The bill, which is a long one, was gone over paragraph by paragraph, and it was finally decided to hold it back for a time until the committee has opportunity to look into what is called the Berkeley primary law, which provides particularly that where a candidate receives at the primary election more than half of the votes cast he shall be considered duly elected to the office for which he is a candidate and shall not run at the regular election following.

The indications are that this special clause, or one along similar lines, will be introduced in the local bill by the committee with a recommendation for its adoption. One effect this clause would have would be to render unnecessary the practical election of the same man to the same office twice, and thus save some confusion and expense, both to the candidate and the people.

There was some opposition in the committee and it is probable that when the bill is reported it will be with a number of amendments recommended. At the hearing yesterday both Judge Whitney and Judge Cooper were present and took an important part in the discussion of the proposed primary law.

After some consideration and general expression of opinion it was resolved to postpone action until the proposed amendments could be looked into and considered.

SENATE SUDDENLY AWAKE AND BUSY

BUSINESS DURING SESSION YES. TERDAY IS IMPORTANT—FRANCHISE ASKED.

Making up for several days of peaceful contemplation of the activity of the house, the senate yesterday busied itself and kept the clerks and messengers on the jump the entire morning, even though it convened a half-hour later.

Passing three house bills and a joint resolution on third reading, listening to committee reports, firing bills into the committee rooms, introducing bills of portent, all these things occupied the attention of the august body up to noon and its energy scintillated committee meetings for the rest of the afternoon.

One of the bills introduced during the session was the one fathered by L. S. Connors, erstwhile presiding genius over the editorial tribulations of the Hilo Herald who has turned high financier and gone into the railroad business. The bill is a lengthy one, conveying a street railway franchise to Connors and W. H. Johnson, who is associated with him in the deal. The franchise is for fifty years, actual work on the construction of the road to be commenced within two years of the date of signing, providing that $20,000 will have been spent in preparation previous to that time as a guarantee of good faith.

The route of the proposed line is from a point on the Front street extension near Reed's Bay, not over a mile from the county bridge, along the extension of Front street across Waioia river and along Front street to its junction with Waiannuene street. From this point it is to run nanka along Waiannuene for three and a half miles and from that point to traverse government lands at Waikona to the probable site of wharves at Kubio Bay.

Connors claims to have asked for a franchise which is the most beneficial to the public of any yet granted in the Islands and points for proof to clauses which give the superintendent of public works a great deal of jurisdiction over the line, even to laying down rules governing speeds. A five-cent fare is guaranteed within a certain radius of Front and Waiannuene streets and where streets are less than a certain width, the tracks are to be laid outside the surfaced road but parallel with it. Standards are set for rails and other material to be used and also for engineering work necessary.

School Bill Next.

The Chillingworth bill, embodying the recommendations of the school fund commission after two years of study will probably be the next important measure to be taken up by the senate. It was yesterday referred to the committee of the whole after a divided vote, several members believing that the educational committee should have held the first conference on it.

A public meeting has been called for Friday afternoon at two o'clock and all the members of the commission, as well as the superintendent of public instruction and others interested have been asked to attend.

Routine Matters.

Among other bills introduced was one providing changes in the laws governing writs of error to criminal cases and another one changing the disposition of fines and costs paid to the district court in case of an appeal. The bill is not very clear in its terms and may undergo extended revision before it appears on the floor for debate.

Mexican Rebels Descend in Force on Town of Naco.

ATTACK PLANNED

Arizonan Sightseers Go to the Line to See Battle.

DOUGLAS, Arizona, March 1.—

Three hundred rebels made a sudden descent upon the border town of Naco, Sonora, yesterday afternoon and made a demand upon Mayor Arnold for surrender. To a request for a parley, made by the mayor, the rebel leader agreed to wait until ten o'clock this morning, at which time, unless the town is given up, he will attack.

The rebels are in force on the southern side of the city, but are allowing the inhabitants to move with their goods across the line into American territory. A large number of Americans are preparing to journey to the line this morning to the point nearest the threatened town to watch any battle that may be fought.

Federal Soldiers Guarding.

CANANEA, Sonora, Mexico, February 17.—Eighty federal troops reached here Thursday from Hermosillo and were dispatched after dark to Naco, where they are guarding the border. The report that rebels were in the Ajo Mountains near here has caused Mayor Arnold to send out scouts and to post guards to all approaches to the city. The scouts have so far reported inability to locate any rebels.

Snow is falling in the Ajo Mountains and the Federals do not believe any insurgents are there. Cananea is guarded by one hundred and twenty-five Federals and three hundred citizen soldiers.

SUCCESSOR TO THE CHINESE CONSUL IS APPOINTED

In spite of all the statements to the contrary the resignation of the Chinese consul was a genuine fact as his successor has now been appointed. He is Chin Wing War and hails from Peking, from whence the appointment was made.

The new man is highly spoken of in China and is also said to be a likely man to fill the bill here. He has received an English education and has been thoroughly trained in diplomatic work. He is a young man who has made a rapid rise in the diplomatic circles in his own country and was picked out for Honolulu as it was thought that with his knowledge of the English language and customs he would be the more able to handle the work which will come under his charge.

This settles the trouble between the local Chinese and the consular once and for all and they are naturally delighted over the situation. The appointment is the result of the special commissioner's work during his stay down here. Before he left he forced the consul to send along his resignation, although the fact of his having done so was denied by the consul.

The city council of Havana, Cuba, adopted a resolution making a loan of $25,000,000 for city improvements.
